Active X™ Sleeve

This sleeve brace is designed to be used for milder pain in the knee. The brace is made up of two different materials. A more compressive synthetic neoprene at the front and the ventilating Active X material on the back . The brace provides compression and improved proproception. The Patella opening is anatomically formed for optimal fit. Around the Patella opening is a soft padding for increased stabilization of Patella. The brace has velcro adjustment on the front of the thigh and on the calf back. Active X Sleeve has a spral stay on each sida.

Recommended Range Of Application
